Dear Friends:

Congratulations on the launch of the Home Aid Concert Series!

The people of Florida have always shown a great appreciation for quality entertainment, as well as a desire to help a neighbor in need. The Home Aid Concerts have combined these two attributes in order to raise funds for Florida families that are struggling to avoid foreclosure. The diverse musical genres of the concerts that will be performed are sure to attract a great amount of sponsors to support such a worthwhile cause.

I would like to thank and congratulate both the performers as well as those who have organized the Home Aid Concerts for their commitment to assisting those in need. It is very inspirational to see individuals using their skills and resources in order to benefit those around them.

Best wishes for successful performances!

Sincerely,
